STATE OF MAINE.

LAND OFFICE

Bangor, May 1, 1858.

In the discharge of my duty as "Agent to superintend and manage the sale and settlement of the Public Lands" of the State, the following notice is hereby given of the Terms and Conditions of Sale:

In the Revised Statutes of Maine, Chapter 6 are to be found all the provisions of law in relation to

The Sale of Lands for Settlement.

Sec. 21. Out of townships located and designated for settlement, the Land Agent shall, from time to time, as est. not exceeding ten in a year, as expedient for sale on lots for settlement; and such lots in those townships of the State and settlement in former years, in such lands still remain for sale, in some paper in each county in the State in which any paper is published, once a week for three months, within six months after the patents to be made, with the assistance of so much of this chapter as relates to the terms and conditions of the sale and settlement of such lands.

Sec. 24. In townships so selected, in which valuable roads have not been located, the Land Agent shall cause such roads to be located as the public interest and the accommodation of the future settlement require.

Sec. 26. The price of the settling lots shall be fifty cents per acre, for which the purchaser shall give three notes, payable in one, two and three years, in favor of the treasurer of the State, under the direction of the Land Agent. The Land Agent shall thereupon give him a certificate, stating that he has become a purchaser of the lot or lots therein described, and that he will be entitled to a deed thereof, when he complies with the requirements of law. The certificate of the person appointed by the Land Agent to superintend the laying out of the labor on the roads, is evidence of the payment of the notes.—Only one lot, not exceed ing two hundred acres, shall be granted to the same person.

Sec. 28. Besides the payment of the notes, every such purchaser shall be required, within two years from the date of his certificate, to establish a residence on his lot and within four years to make such date to clear, on each lot, not less than ten acres, ten acres of which shall be well laid down to grass; and to build a comfortable dwelling house on it.

Sec. 29. If the purchaser fails to perform any of the acts so required of him, or to pay his notes, the Land Agent may enter upon the land, and the Land Agent may dispose of it in another person.

Sec. 30. The Land Agent shall appoint some suitable person or persons in the vicinity to superintend the laying out of settlers, the payment of road labor, and the performance of their settlement duties.

Sec. 31. Whoever purchases a lot of wild land of the State, not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres, and complies with the conditions of the law, may hold it with the improvements and trees free from attachment and levy on execution, which he remains in actual possession therof.

Sec. 32. The value so exempted shall not exceed one thousand dollars, to be set off to the owner in the proceedings of the law he elects, by the appointment appointed to levy said execution, the same as real estate is set off and appraised on execution.

Sec. 33. On the decease of such purchaser, his widow and the improvements shall descend to her, subject to his widow's right of dower. The land shall not be liable to be sold for the payment of his debts, except in case of a debt originally contracted for the purchase thereof, and in that case, his children shall have the option and improvement privilege, subject to the widow's right of dower, until the youngest surviving child shall arrive at the age of eighteen years. The land, however, after the decease of the widow, and after the youngest child attains the age of eighteen years, may be sold as other estates of deceased persons for the payment of such debts as the other estate of the deceased is not sufficient to pay. Without such sale, such land shall descend in the same manner as any other property.

Sec. 34. Such purchaser, having a wife, may convey his said lot by deed, unless his wife join therein, and acknowledges it to be her free act and deed, before a proper magistrate.

Sec. 35. The Land Agent may sell at public or private sale for such prices as he considers fair and for the interest of the State all tracts of land owned by the State on Islands or in incorporated

Under the provisions of this law, there have been already located and designated new settlements by former Land Agents selected and for sale, the following townships, viz:

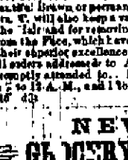
Itis Lightning Rods.

The only Patent which affords absolute Protection against Lightning, as demonstrated by science and experience.

This Rod has been extensively used thro' the Southern & Western States, West Indies and the Canadas, since 1851, and though it has been struck in hundreds of instances, it has never failed to protect.



The great amount of damage done recently by lightning has called attention, as it should, to the protection of buildings by the use of Lightning Conductors. It is all important that the rod used should be one that will give protection, and in rodding buildings it should be done by one having experience in the business.

Mr. Reed, former partner of T. M. Kimball, now proprietor of the Rods, for Penobscot Co., has returned to this city to commence business for the coming season. Having had large experience, he assures the public that all his work of this kind will be done in a thorough, neat, and scientific manner.

17 Specimens of the Rod, and certificates of its use in from many of the most eminently scientific men in the country, may be seen at D. M. HOWARD'S Store, on Exchange street, No. 15; and at Dodge's Hotel, Harlow st., and at the office of the Penobscot Mutual Fire Insurance Co. Granite Block, East Market Square, Bangor.

Such times as the present should cause every business man, with a family dependant upon him, to consider what the end then of those he loves, might be should he be suddenly taken away by death. All can now fully see the uncertainty and instability of fortunes made in business. The millionaire merchant of yesterday is to-day the insolvent debtor. To guard against such reverses let every man insure his life for the benefit of his family, which insurance cannot be disturbed by his creditors. The Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company offers security and advantages not surpassed by any institution in the country—its investments are in bonds and mortgages on real estate worth more than double the amount loaned. One half of the Premium on Life Policies may be paid by note bearing 6 per cent. interest. Dividends are declared annually to those who have paid one Life premiums—there are no stockholders to take any of the profits which rightfully belong to those who are insured for life.

Prospectuses, statements and applications will be furnished (without charge), and all information desired will be given by the undersigned Agent.

N. B. Persons residing in any portion of the country desirous of insuring their lives, will be supplied with all the necessary papers and with minute instructions to enable them to make applications by addressing the undersigned.

FOR GOVERNOR,

LOT M. MORRILL.

Letter from Kansas—The Hamilton Massacre—The Coming Election.

The following is a letter from a young man, formerly well known in this city, but now a resident of Kansas. It gives a reliable statement of the facts of the latest border ruffian massacre in that Territory:

KANSAS TERRITORY, July 4, 1858.

MY DEAR SIR:—You have doubtless heard much of the late massacre of five Free State men in Kansas, by Hamilton and his pro-slavery bands; and which I suppose, has been denied, garbled and, endorsed in every possible manner by Northern pro-slavery organs, and the report to prejudice stigmatized as "abolition lies." But the act can in no manner be disguised nor the crime palliated. It is a plain but terrible story. Nearly all the murdered men were strangers in Kansas—their only crime that of being born in and emigrating from States whose constitution prohibits making man's chattel—men who had violated no law, engaged in no treasonable enterprise—simply seeking a new home,—condemned and barbarously shot down by ruffians because of the honest admission that they were from Free States. Such is the whole tale briefly but truthfully told.

There is, I presume, much speculation in regard to the coming August election, upon the English proposition. Have no fears upon that point. The people of Kansas cannot be bought or bribed by land grants, nor inveigled into accepting the despised nutriment by honied phrases or promises. They are impervious to both—having had a long experience through a portion of two Democratic Administrations, and are perfectly satisfied as to the dishonesty of both, and the emptiness of the promises, both past and future. You will observe, by the returns, when any is in, a majority in Kansas, and it will then be evident that a weak minority have heretofore governed and imposed laws upon a majority strong and intelligent.

Business at present in the Territory is very dull; and, considering the stringency of the times, it would be but an act of justice to again post you the land sales now advertised for October as hundreds of honest men who are striving to make a home cannot obtain means to pay for their claims. Emigration is coming into the Territory, almost exclusively from the Free States. Lawrence is destined to be one of the finest inland cities in the Territory, and has the air and appearance of a New England town. New England ideas and institutions, wherever planted, augur well for the future.

Yours truly.

THE ATLANTIC CABLE.—The failure of the late telegraph expedition, although discouraging, is by no means so disheartening as may be supposed by some. The failure was on the Agamemnon, and we believe it is a significant fact that all the failures have been on her part. This may be accounted for on the ground of carelessness on the part of the officers of the Agamemnon, or it may be from a cause less creditable. Whatever it may be, we believe that another trial will be made this year, which may perhaps be successful, but at all events we regard the success of the project as certain within a few years. The matter will not thus be abandoned by the parties concerned, and some remedy will be devised for the difficulties already discovered. In a project of this magnitude a few failures must be expected, and were expected.

We copy the following from the New York Evening Post

"Mr. Morse, whom we have been in the habit of regarding as one of the highest authorities in the telegraphic science, we are informed, has never expected that the experiment now on foot of the Atlantic would be successful, though he is quite sanguine that a cable can be laid and worked between the terminal which the company have selected. He does not disguise his conviction that the cable on board the company's steamers is much too heavy, and that one of half its weight, or less might be laid and worked effectively. His views upon this subject and the consequences to which they have led are said to have been the controlling reasons for his being left out of the Board of Direction, at the election which immediately preceded the reduction in the price of the stock."

The Post also adds:

"There are other positions which have been suggested to us, against the accidents to which the plans for laying submarine cables here thus far proposed to be liable, which we will submit without argument for what they are worth:

A cable coiled cannot be uncoiled without kinks;

Therefore the cable must be reeled to be laid.

The necessity for two vessels to lay the cable quadruples (and more) the risk of accidents;

Therefore the cable must be laid from one ship.

The voyage to England is easier, shorter and safer than the voyage from England;

Therefore the vessel with the cable should start from this side.

There is one vessel, and one only, of tonnage and room sufficient to carry the whole cable, 16,000 tons, the Leviathan;

Therefore, the cable, if ever laid at all, must be laid on a suggestion of Webb in the Leviathan, and he Leviathan must sail from our own shores.

If these views should be deemed to possess any value, I would be sorry for the Leviathan to bring the cable with her to this country and lay it up her first trip home."

A BOMBARDIER OF BENEDICT ARNOLD.—By George Canning Hill. Boston: E. O. Libby & Co.

This neatly printed and handsomely illustrated volume is issued in the "American Historical Series" which bids fair to be a most valuable addition to our historical literature. Both Arnold's fatal error from patriotism and valor, and honor, his performed good service for his country, and the story of his military exploits and exploits forms a chapter almost of romance, in the history of the stormy times that tried men's souls. The narrative of his treason is fully and we believe accurately given.

SPEECH OF MR. LINCOLN,

IN REPLY TO SENATOR DOUGLAS,

At Chicago, July 10, 1858.

(Concluded.)

What are the uses of decisions of courts?—They are two fold. As rules of property they have two uses. First they decide upon the question before the court. They decide in this case that Dred Scott is a slave. Nobody resists that. Not only that, but they say to everybody else, that persons standing just as Dred Scott stands, as in his case, shall be slaves. That is, they say that when a question comes up on another person it will be decided again, unless the Supreme Court should see fit to change its decision. [Renewed applause.] Well, we mean to do what we can to have the Court decide the other way. That is one thing we mean to try to do.

The second thing that Judge Douglas throws around this occasion, is a degree of sacredness that has never before been thrown around any other decision. I have never heard of such a thing. Why, the men appear directly contrary to that declaration, or had good lawyers thought they were contrary to that decision, have been made by that very Court before. It is the first of its kind; it is an astonisher in legal history.—[Laughter.] It is a new wonder of the world. [Laughter and applause.] It is based upon falsehood in the sense in the Nile—allegations of fact upon which it stands are not facts at all in any instance; and no decision made on any question—the first instance of a decision made under so many unfavorable circumstances—thus placed has ever been held by the profession as law, and it has always needed confirmation before the lawyers regarded it as settled law. But Judge Douglas will have it that all hands must take this extraordinary case nice, made under these extraordinary circumstances, and give their votes in Congress in accordance with it, yield to it in every possible shape. Circumstances latter cases. Some gentlemen were remember the case of that same Supreme Court, some twenty-five or thirty years ago, deciding that a National Bank was constitutional. I ask if somebody does not remember that a National Bank was declared to be constitutional.—["Yes, yes."] Such is the truth whether it be remembered or not. The bank charter ran out, and the charter was granted by Congress. That re-chartered was laid before Gen. Jackson. It was urged upon him when he vetoed the constitutionality of the bank, that the Supreme Court had decided that it was constitutional; and Gen. Jackson in reply said the Supreme Court had no right to lay down a rule to govern a co-ordinate branch of the Government, the members of which are sworn to support the Constitution—that each member had sworn to support the Constitution as understood by himself—and not by what others say that I have heard Judge Douglas say. Let the opinion of Gen. Jackson be taken. [What has now become of all his track about "resistance to the Supreme Court" "Gone up" "Gone to the moon."]

My fellow-citizens, getting back a little, for I pass from the second one, when Judge Douglas advances his third proposition, and the "alliance," he intimations to all the "allies" he has relations to say that that warfare of his is to fall upon the leaders of the Republican party. A wise enemy would be sure to make such a point, has a significance. It means that the Republicans that do not count themselves as leaders, to be let alone; but rallies me as overthem; it is the leaders the blow is aimed upon. He wants it understood that he makes of the Republican party are really his friends. It is only the leaders that are to do something, that are inimical to that requisite extent which is to be his friends. As this is clearly and unquestionably the right in which he presents that matter, I want to ask your attention, addressing myself to the Republican party, that I may ask you some questions, as to where you, as the Republican party, would be placed if you surrendered Judge Douglas by a re-election? He is to you he is for the Cincinnati platform; he tells you he is for the Dred Scott decision.—He tells you, not a hase speech last night, but unequivocally, in answer to speech, that he cares not if slavery is voted up or down—he tells you the struggle on Lecompton is passed—it may come up again or not, and if it does he stands where he took when, in support of Buchanan and his opposition, you built up the Republican party. If you endorse him, you tell him you do not care whether Slavery be voted up or down, and he will close, or try to close your mouths with his declaration repeated by the day the week, the month and the year. Is that what you mean? [Cries of "No."] Sobeit, I have said all I repent it. I think in the position in which Judge Douglas stood in opposing the Lecompton Constitution, he was right. He does not know that it will return, but if it does we may know where to find him; and if it does not we may know where to look for him, and I adopt on the Cincinnati platform. Now I could ask the Republican party, after all he has done since Judge Douglas has come up—if he repented examples of their inclination to sweep with and buy negroes all his declarations of Black Republicanism—(by the way, we are improving, the black has go rub and off;) but wish I that, if he is inclined to Republican votes, where do you stand? Is Douglas your steady saddled, bridle-bitted horse-steed, and waiting to be driven over it in the Slavery extension camp of the nation. Is "order" We will hang yourselves first"—you ready to be driven over, tied legs, hair in a halter to be driven or so, every man with a rope round his neck, this halter being held by Judge Douglas. That is the question. If Republicans must have room in case it does not, but I think that the Republican party is made up of Union men, as for another one possible, will oppose the extension of Slavery, and who, but before its ultimate extinction—who will believe it? It ceases to spread, that is the course of ultimate extinction.

We were often—more than once, at least—in the course of Judge Douglas's speech last night, reminded that this Government was made for white men—that he believed it was made for white men! Well, that is putting it in a shape in which no one wants to deny it, but the Judge then goes into his passion for drawing inferences that were not warranted. I protest, now and forever, against that counterfeit logic which presumes that because I do not want a negro woman for a slave, I do necessarily want her for a wife. [Laughter and cheers.] My understanding is that I need not have her for either, but as God made us separate, we can leave one another alone and do one another much good thereby. There are white men enough to marry all the white women, and enough black men to marry all the black women, and in God's name let them be so married. The Judge negates as with the terrible enormities that take place by the mixture of races; that the inferior race bears the superior down. Why, Judge, if we will not let them get together in the Territories they won't mix there. [Immense applause.]

A voice—"Three cheers for Lincoln." [The cheers were given with a hearty good will.]

Mr. Lincoln—I should say at least that this is a self-evident truth.

Now, it happens that we meet together once every year, sometime about the Fourth of July, for some reason or other. These Fourth of July gatherings, I suppose, have their origin in the necessity of having some way to get up a day. If you will indulge me, I will state what I suppose is the origin of them.

We are now a mighty nation; we are thirty, or about thirty millions of people, and we own and inhabit about one-fifteenth part of the dry land of the whole earth. We run our memory back over the pages of history for about eighty-two years, and we discover that we were then a very small people in point of numbers—vastly inferior to what we are now—with a vastly less extent of country, with a vastly less of everything we deem desirable among men—we look upon the change as exceedingly advantageous to us and to our posterity, and we propose something that happened away back, as in so far as we or other being connected with this rise of prosperity. We find a race of men living in that day whom we claim as our fathers and grandfathers; they were iron men; they fought for the principle that they were contending for; and we understand that by what they then did it has followed us to the degree of prosperity that we now enjoy. It has come to us. We hold this annual festival as a day to remind ourselves of all the good done in this process of time, of how it was done, and who did it, and how we are historically connected with it; and we go from these meetings in better humor with ourselves—we feel the more attached the one to the other, and more firmly bound to the country we inhabit. In every way we are better men in the age, and race, and country in which we live for these celebrations. But after we have done all this we have not yet reached the whole. There is something else connected with it. We have besides these men—descended by blood from our ancestors—among us perhaps half of our people who are not descendants at all of these men, they are men, who have come from Europe—Germans, Irish, French and South American—men that have come from Europe themselves or whose ancestors have come hither and settled here, finding themselves put equals in all things. If they look back through this history to trace their connection with those days by blood, they find they have none, they cannot carry it themselves back into that glorious epoch and make themselves feel that they are part of us, but when they look through that old Declaration of Independence they find that those old men say that "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal," and then they feel that that moral sentiment taught in that day evidences their relation to those men, that it is the father of all moral principle in them, and that they have a right to claim it as though they were blood of the blood, and flesh of the flesh of the men who wrote that Declaration (Loud and long continued applause) and to them we are. That is the electric cord in that Declaration that links the hearts of patriotic and liberty-loving men together, that will link those patriotic hearts as long as the love of freedom exists in the minds of men throughout the world. [Applause.]

Now, Sirs, for the purpose of sustaining the rights with this idea of freedom as I have it rooted up or cut down, for sustaining the Dred Scott decision—[A voice: "Put him through" for holding that the Declaration of Independence did not mean anything at all—we have Judge Douglas giving his opinion of what the Declaration of Independence means, and we have him saying that the people of America were equal to the people of England. According to his construction you Germans are not connected with it. Now I ask you in all soberness, if all these things—if indulged in, if ratified, if confirmed and established, if taught to our children and repeated to them—do not tend to rub out the sentiment of liberty in the country, and to transform this government into a government of some other form. Those arguments that are made, that the inferior race are to be treated with as much humanity as they are capable of enjoying; that as much is to be done for them as their condition will allow—what are these arguments? They are the arguments that kings have made for enslaving the people in all ages of the world.

I may be argued that there are certain conditions that make necessities and impose them upon us, and to the extent that a necessity is imposed upon a man he must submit to it. I think that was the condition in which we placed ourselves when we established this Government. We had Slavery among us, we could not get our Constitution unless we permitted them to remain in Slavery; we could not secure the good we did secure if we grasped for more, and having by necessity submitted to that much, it does not destroy the principle that is the charter of our liberties. Let that charter stand as our standard.

I say in relation to the principle that all men are created equal, that it has nearly reached its present length as we can. If we cannot give freedom to every creature, let us do nothing that will impose Slavery upon any other creature. [Applause.] Let us then turn this Government back into the channel in which the framers of the Constitution originally placed it. Let us stand firmly by each other.

My friends, I have detained you about as long as I desired to do, and I have only to say, let us discard all this quibbling about this man and the other man—this race and that race and the other race being inferior, and therefore they must be placed in an inferior position—discarding our standard that we have left us. Let us discard all these things, and unite as one people throughout this land, until we shall once more stand up declaring that all men are created equal.

The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune says:

"The articles now being published in the Union against Judge Douglas are written under the special direction of the President, if not with his own hand. The same statements and language are held commonly among the friends of the Administration, and it is generally recognized that a personal war is intended at every hazard, and the Federal officers so notified the early result to end or it will be followed by a removal, as was recently done in Chicago."

The Chicago Democrat, Long John Wentworth's paper, raises the name of Abraham Lincoln as the candidate for United States Senator, to succeed Douglas. Wentworth has been accepted with a design to obtain the place.

LOCAL AND MAINE NEWS.

We are indebted to Mr. Yeaton, of Bryant's Bangor and Boston Express, for late papers.

Mrs. A. L. Norcross, the Mesmeric Physician, is in town and has taken rooms at the Hatch house, where she may be consulted.

NEW BAKERY.—We notice that Mr. Joseph Brown has recommenced the bakery business. His place is corner of Hammond and Columbia Sts.

TEMPERANCE MEETING.—There will be a meeting of the Washingtonian Association at the City Hall this evening at 7½ o'clock.

The following young gentlemen, members of the Middle Class in the Theological Seminary at Bangor, were licensed the present week, by the Penobscot Ministerial Association, as preachers of the gospel viz. William H. Besson, George P. Claflin, Henry N. Emmons, K. B. Gladden, S. G. Norcross, Edwin E. Palmer, Edwin P. Porter, Charles B. Rice, M. L. Richardson, and Thomas S. Rabie.

At the Trotting Park, yesterday, James Smith of Albany, ran around the mile track four times, drawing a light sulky, in 34 minutes and 37 seconds.

After this feat was performed, there was a foot race between an Indian and two white men, which was won by the Indian, who made five miles in 30 minutes and 12 seconds.

We are pleased to learn that the accident on the Grand Trunk, mentioned in our paper yesterday morning, was not so severe as at first supposed. The injury to the express-man and engineer was slight, and the delay and damage to the train not very great. The cars were thrown off by the breaking of a portion of one of the wheels.

Sch. A. Sawyer, off Pratt Menan, picked up the body of a man found floating, and brought him into Jonesport—supposed to be the body of Hollis Bryant, son of Geo. R. Bryant, of Machias, lost in December last. The body was interred on Sunday.

HORSE DROWNED.—On Monday afternoon, Mr. O. Dickman, of Boston, wishing to give his horse some water, drove him into the river, at the town landing. The tide being out, the horse got into the channel, which comes very near the shore at this place, and was pulled under by the wagon and drowned. He was a valuable animal, and was owned in Gardiner.—Augusta Farmer.

BAPTISED.—On Sunday last Rev. Mr. Church, of the Bowen St. Methodist Church, baptized four converts by immersion at the Ireland district—making forty baptized in that charge during the year.

There were also four baptized by the F. W. Baptist clergyman, officiating at "the Chapel."

Bath Times.

A meeting of the stockholders of the Gas Light Company was had at the Custom House, on Friday of last week, for the organization of the company and the choice of a board of Directors. H. O. Alden, Esq., James P. White, W. H. Burrill, T. H. Marshall and Charles L. Haseltine were chosen Directors. The committee to procure subscription to the stock reported, that the sum of $12,600 of the $16,000, which is the estimated cost of the works, had been subscribed. It was therefore voted, on motion of A. W. Johnson, Esq., as the sense of the corporation, that the Directors be requested to proceed forthwith to construct Gas Works of such kind and in such a manner, as they may deem the best; and also to issue the same when completed, if they shall consider it for the interest of the Stockholders.

At a meeting of the directors, the organization was completed by electing Hiram O. Alden President, William H. Conner Clerk, and Thomas H. Marshall Treasurer.

NEW POST OFFICE.—A new post office has been established at Fayette Ridge, Kennebec Co., and Richard Turner appointed Post Master.

COMMISSIONER APPOINTED.—The Governor and Council have appointed Seth Gregory, Esq., of Wilton, County Commissioner for Franklin County, in place of F. Lawrence, deceased.

NORTH ANSON AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—The cattle show and fair of the North Anson Agricultural Society will be held at Presque Isle, on Wednesday and Thursday, October 6 and 7.

Gen. Lane, who shot his next door neighbor for coming to get a pail of water from a well in the line between them, has been acquitted by the "Free State" Court, before which he was tried. He holds the office of "Major General of the Militia of Kansas," by appointment of the present Free State Legislature.—Probably he will now be promoted to some higher position, civil or military.—Albany Argus.

The Argus draws this inference from the policy adopted by the Administration: No Democrat is sure of "promotion" in Kansas until he has committed some gross outrage.—The several Governors who have office and there have been removed, one after the other, because they would neither do murder themselves nor suffer it to be done by others.—Winston has been superseded as Marshal because he believed Free State men had rights which Democratic officials should respect; and Denver will be very soon removed if he don't resign, because he is urging as if he meant to see fair play at the election in August.

But Brooks, who "shot" his man, and who has proved himself a very prince of ruffianism, has been awarded an office pension of $1800 a year; and Clark, the avowedly murderer, who shot Barbour in the back, (copying-ing-ing nearly as the circumstances would allow, Brooks's assault upon Sumner,) has been promoted to the very desirable office of Purser in the Navy.

It is natural, therefore for the Argus to suppose that only those who have done violence are sure of "promotion" in Kansas.—Albany Journal.

The following story, though old, is worth repeating for the benefit of those who may have forgotten it, and of many who never saw it:—

"JUNIOR THEOREM.—When the question of the emblems and devices of our national arms was before the old Congress, a member from the South warmly opposed the eagle as a monarchical bird; The king of birds could not be a suitable representative of a people whose institutions were founded in hostility to kings. The late Judge Thatcher, then a Representative from Massachusetts, in reply proposed his pose, which he said was a most humble and republican bird, and would in other respects prove advantageous, inasmuch as the geelings would do to put on the ten cent pieces. The laughter which followed at the expense of the Southerner was more than he could bear.—He construed this good humored irony into an insult, and sent a challenge. The bearer delivered it to Mr. Thatcher, who heard and returned it to him, observing that he should not accept it. "What," said the astonished gentleman, "you will not be branded as a coward?" "Yes, sir, if it so pleases; I always was a coward, and he knew it, or he never would have challenged me." The joke was too good to be resisted, even by the angry party, and the former cordial intercourse was soon restored."

[By Telegraph to Evening Paper.]

ARRIVAL OF THE KANGAROO.—New York, July 21. The steamship Kangaroo, from Liverpool 7th inst., arrived this morning.

The Agamemnon had not arrived at Queenstown at noon of the seventh. It was thought she may have steered for Plymouth.

LATER FROM UTAH.—GEN. JOHNSTON IN THE CITY. St. Louis, July 20. Our Leavenworth despatches of the 10th inst., per U. S. express to Boonerville, say that private dispatches from Washington state that new military posts are to be created at Big Timbers and the Cheyenne Pass.

A dispatch from St. Josephs of the 17th inst., says the Salt Lake mail has arrived with dates to the 26th ult.

Gen. Johnston entered Salt Lake City on the 26th ult. Capt. Marcy was with the head quarters in the city.

The Mormons had been invited to return and take possession of their deserted homes. Provo was still the rallying point of the Mormons.

The express, with orders from the War Department for Gen. Harney, was only six miles in the rear, and the Indians were peaceable.

The Admiral's Dream.

Admiral Sir Henry Digby, in the command of a frigate, had shaped his course for Cape St. Vincent, and was running to the southward in the latitude of Cape Finisterre. He rang his bell at eleven o'clock for the officer of the watch, and asked him,

"How are we standing?"

"South-south-west, Sir."

"What sort of weather?"

"The same, Sir, as when you left the deck; fine strong breeze; starlight night."

"The same and?"

"Yes, the same; double-reefed topsails and foresail."

"Has there been any body in my cabin?"

"I believe not, sir; I shall ask the sentry. Sentry," asked the officer of the watch, "has there been any body in the Captain's cabin?"

"No, sir," said the sentry, "nobody."

"Very odd," rejoined the Captain, "I was perfectly convinced I had been spoken to."

At two o'clock the bell was again rung, the same questions repeated, and the same answers given.

"Most extraordinary thing," said Captain Digby; "every time I dropped asleep I heard somebody shouting in my ear, 'Digby Digby! go to the northward!' 'Digby! Digby! go to the northward!' I shall certainly do so."

"Take another reef in your topsails," he continued to the officer of the watch; "haul your wind and tack every hour till daylight, and then call me."

The officer of the middle watch did accordingly as he was ordered, and when relieved at four o'clock, his successor was greatly astonished at finding the ship on a wind, and asked the meaning of it.

"Meaning, indeed, said the other; "the Captain has gone mad, that's all!" and he then told his story, at which they laughed heartily. There was, however, nothing to do but obey the orders; and the ship was tacked at four at five, at six and seven. She had just come round, for the last time, as the day was breaking, when the look-out man sang out, "Large ship on the weather bow!"

A musket was fired to bring her to, and she proved a Spanish vessel laden with dollars and a rich cargo, which gave the fortunate dreamer a large portion of the great fortune which he amassed in the naval service.

The story was told to my friend, the late Sir Jahleel Brenton, and by him repeated to me; the high character of both him and Sir Henry Digby forbidding the possibility of fabrication.—[Sea Drift, by Rear Admiral Hercules Robinson.]

TELEGRAPHIC

TO THE DAILY WEEKLY AND COURIER

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, 21st.

The Commissioner of Indian Affairs has received a private letter dated Jan 22d, stating that the Comanches are engaged in depredations.

Gen Cooper, the Choctaw and Chickasaw agent had just started for Washington when the troubles commenced, but an express has been sent, requesting his return.

There are but six white men at Fort Arbuckle and the post might be taken at any moment.

The Comanchees are very much irritated at the losses they sustained in the recent conflict with the Texas Rangers.

The order for the march of the 2d Cavalry to Fort Leavenworth has been countermanded, and that regiment will remain on duty in the department of Texas.

On the 1st of August the department of Florida will be broken up, and the several military stations therein will revert to the department of the south.

It is the Secretary's compliments to Col. Loomis and directs him to suspend close the late Indian hostilities in Florida.

One of the sufferers by the taxation movement of the seceding governments, this morning called on interview with the President on the subject. Acting under the advice of Minister Forsyth he refused to pay the tax, and was by another citizen, was compelled to leave Mexico.

It is not probable that Mr. Forsyth would have been directed to withdraw the legation and come home, had he not terminated his functions as the envoy of the present government.

It appears to the published statement, it is now known here that Col Kane will not publish any part of his Utah mission. Sufficient reasons are assigned why the would not advance the public interests

American & Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents,

(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington under Act of 1837.)

76 State Street, opposite Kilby-st.,
BOSTON.

ATTENDS with extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Patents, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Research made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, of ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate and the prospective practice of the subscriber, during twenty years past, has enabled him to acquire a valuable collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and technical works, and full accounts of Patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior advantages for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"During the time I occupied the chair of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business in the Patent Office, as Solicitor for procuring patents. The duties were of such a character as to bring in their respective turns all such business before the Patent Office, and there were none who conducted it in more skill, fidelity and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most respectable and most skilful Patent practitioners in the United States, and have no hesitation in tendering to persons in any section of the country who may employ a patent solicitor my cordial recommendation as a faithful, honorable and capable gentleman, to whom all matters of putting their applications before the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

[From the present Commissioner.]

"January 17, 1856—During the time I have had the honor of being Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the Office, as a practitioner. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the office. I regard him as one of the most capable and experienced practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. A. NICHOLAS, President. Office 70 Wall-st.

A Perfect Security upon all manner of Fraud or Stain—Erasing on Paper—To Prevent Photographs and Autotint Counterfeits, Erasures, Transfers or Alterations.

HAVING purchased the Patent for the exclusive right to manufacture and sell the Chemical Paper in America, invented and patented in England by HENRY GENNE, a celebrated Chemist and Officer in the British army, it is hardly necessary to say that the Paper is recommended by Mr. Grant, Assistant of the U. S. Mint, Mr. Lyman of the New York Clearing House, and Messrs. Heathorn, extensive and skilful photographers, 251 Broadway, N. Y. The after say that no fraud whatever can be practised upon paper prepared on the Safety Paper. Below is our list of prices:

Bank Checks—25 cts. per lb.
Bank Bills—$3 50 per 1000 sheets.
Bills of Exchange—$4 50 per 1000 sheets.

LINCOLN'S

WATER PROOF BLACKING,

AND LEATHER PRESERVATIVE.

Keep your boots dry and you will seldom need a Physician.

IS it not a truth that when the feet are often wet, it is one of the greatest causes of colds and consumption? It is a truth that when leather is often wet and dried, it soon becomes hard, stiff, and cracks; but when it is water-proof this is remedied. By the application of this preservative, it remains soft, and entirely impervious to water.

After being engaged for 22 years in the manufacture of Leather in all its branches, and being often troubled with wet feet myself, I was led to experiment upon different compositions, and found it easy to make it water-proof, but at the same time a preservative from injurious to the leather. At last by a chemical process, I discovered a preparation which perfectly harmonizes with the nature and properties with which leather is tanned. It will not only render the leather water-proof, but it likewise softens it, and it will Positively wear twice as long.

I have now used it for three years, and a large part of that time have worked in a wet tannery, constantly in water, and have not had my feet wet during that time. I therefore in all confidence recommend it to the public as the best article in the market.

THE LUXURY AND PROFIT OF HONEY MAKING.

☞ Torrey's Bee Hive.

THE subscriber, having purchased the right of making and selling Davis' Patent Bee Hive for the Counties of Penobscot, Lincoln and Aroostook, which has been received with so much favor, and taken the first premiums wherever exhibited, has introduced an improvement into the Bee Hive and is now prepared to make the same in connection with the Davis Platform, and to sell rights to towns and individuals.

This Bee Hive, thus improved, is admitted by persons acquainted with the honey-making business to be superior to every thing yet invented for the purpose. It covers all the requisitions for the profitable maintenance of the apiary, by providing for ventilation at all seasons of the year—room for the ingress and feed of the bees—conveniences for the removal of surplus honey, for the proper separation of the swarms, and generally for the health and comfort of the workers.

The boxes used in the Hive for storing honey, are the best adapted in their size, for the market, holding from three to six pounds each.

The subscriber wishes to purchase one hundred swarms of bees in exchange for bee hives and individual rights.
